

Chic Escape quilts and other projects are in keeping with the theme and inspiration for the collection.

Lush ladies in their finest vintage dresses, looking almost like a collection of painted flower vases, are ready for a fun evening in Cocktail Hour quilts and pillows.
The Dressing Gown quilt with beautiful kimono-inspired robes on a Grey Classic Basic background is a softer design with pops of color.
The Flea Market quilt is easy to piece together and the graphic design contrasts well with the elaborate vintage-inspired patterns.
This collection is perfect for elegant purses and bags. A Cocktail Hour purse pattern will be released with the collection.

As soon as instructions are ready and approved consumption lists will be released on tildafabrics.com

Chic Escape

Our escape during lockdown, a rather chic escape I might add, was following all the charming people that have left their old lives behind to restore derelict French chateaus, on YouTube. Starting their days knee deep in mud because of a leak and ending it with a cocktail party. Spending an uncommon amount of time in their dressing gowns often paired with brolies (I suppose their dressing-rooms are just too far away) and flanked by a peacock while tackling obstacles like a bathtub falling through the floor. Trips to local flea markets (brocants), always on the lookout for vintage pottery, fabric and furniture to bring these vast buildings to life.

Chic Escape is inspired by brave people saving and bringing life and laughter back to old forgotten buildings, and all our shared interests in vintage fabric, pottery and flowers. A very special thanks to the wonderful people at Chateau de la Lande for all the joy and inspiration.

Chic Escape differs from other Tilda collections with larger patterns and bolder, deeper colors. This is without a doubt the most labour-intensive collection in Tilda's history. The goal was to have the same level of detail in these larger patterns as in our small prints. Daisyfield extras in 10 colors, designed using details from "Wildgarden" is a useful addition to the main collection.

We have made the decision to divide the year into three collections going forward, spring/summer, autumn/winter and a special edition in between. The new special edition concept allows us to test out new ideas and different looks without too much emphasis on season.

Chic Escape will be our first Special Edition Collection.
